Previous to these races Harry Wilkes was speeded on four trials, and made 2:28, 2:30, 2:19 and 2:19. His gait and appearance were much admired.

Resolved, That all persons arriving on vessels from the port of San Pedro, shall, before being allowed to land, be vaccinated, unless showing signs of perfect previous vaccination.

Burned to Death.

ROCKLIN, Cal., March 19.—A fire early this morning, which originated in H. Mullin's saloon, swept a whole block, including the Rocklin Hotel. Among the ruins were found the remains of M. Connelly. It is believed that he was asleep in the saloon at the time of the fire. Losses, $15,500; insurance, $4800.

A fire started in Mullin's saloon about 12:30 this morning, which soon swept away the entire block. The losses are the Rocklin Hotel, $3500; insurance, $1000; C. G. Soule's building and stock of goods, $500; insurance, $100; W. E. Williams, saloon and dwelling, $1200; insurance, $500; H. Burchard's saloon, music hall and pictures, $3000; insurance, $1500. Very little was saved, and that in a damaged condition. The remains of M. Connelly were found in the ruins. How the fire started is a mystery. The railroad fire department block, as it looked at one time as though the whole business part of the town would have to go.

Crop Prospects.

MERCED, March 19.—The crop prospects have much improved during the past week, owing to warm days and cool nights. Wheat is looking well as usual at this time of the year. Rain, however, would be a benefit, though nothing is suffering now.

THE DEBRIS SUIT.

Decided in Favor of the Defendants.

STOCKTON, March 19.—The debris suit, brought by this city against hydraulic miners, was decided for the defendants this morning on the ground that the natural wash and plying of bottom farms is responsible for the debris to an excessively large extent. The suit was brought against fourteen defendants of Calaveras, but was dismissed against all but the North Hill mine owners. The opinion of Judge Presley was filed today in favor of the defendants. An appeal will probably be taken.

A Railroad Transfer Confirmed.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—Regarding the statement telegraphed last night that the Oregon and California railway has been transferred to the Southern Pacific Company, Colonel Charles F. Crocker, Vice-President of the latter company, sent the Associated Press the following statement today: "The transfer of the Oregon and California railway to the possession of the Southern Pacific Company awaits the delivery of certain securities in New York City, which will be accomplished about April 1st. The agreement was made some months since in New York by Mr. Huntington and the agents of the bondholders. The stockholders of the Oregon and California railroad have been notified."

Skipped to Canada, of Course.

NEW YORK, March 19.—The Tribune to-morrow will say: S. J. Vlasto, the New York representative of the Vlasto Brothers, ship brokers, has disappeared, leaving behind him a large number of creditors, to whom he owes small amounts, but running up in the aggregate to about $50,000. He was a member of the Produce Exchange, and has been a wild speculator in what options, upon which he lost money. He will be taken to Napa to-morrow.

Probably Another False Alarm.

COLUMBIA, Cal., March 19.—Considerable excitement prevails here upon the arrest of a man who answers to the description of Springer, the murderer, upon the arrival of the San Diego express at 2:30 p. m. It is stated that an effort will be made to extradite him, but it is feared that it will prove unsuccessful.

Breaking Up.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 19.—Arrivals from the west coast report an abandoned lumber-laden brig near Barclay sound. Indians saved most of the lumber. The vessel was fast breaking up. She is supposed to be the bark Wm. T. Irwin, which sailed from the sound last fall.

EASTERN.

A Proposed Railroad for New Mexico.

GOING FOR TELEPHONE CABLES.

A Dakota City Threatened With Annihilation Through an Ice Gorge in the River.

Associated Press Dispatches to the Herald.

ALBUQUERQUE, March 19.—The Durango Board of Trade and the Albuquerque Board of Trade are now conferring for the purpose of building a railroad from Durango through the San Juan and San Luis valleys to this city. At the present all mail from this place to the adjoining counties of Rio Arriba and San Juan is as long in transit as the mail to New York, although the distance, as the crow flies, is but about one hundred miles. But there being no road over the mountains the mail must go via Denver, and thence to Durango to reach its destination. The new road, as projected, will be a narrow-gauge and probably be a part of the Rio Grande system. The principal reason for its early completion is the well-authenticated rumor that the St. Louis and San Francisco road will be at once built to this city over the old Atlantic and Pacific survey, which not only provides better facilities for mail, but gives the people of prosperous San Juan county open markets both east and west.

TELEPHONE CABLES.

Their Suspension in the Air a Cause of Danger in Fires.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 19.—A largely attended meeting of representative citizens was held at the Merchants' Exchange this afternoon, to take action in favor of the removal of all electric wires from the streets and place them underground. The meeting grew out of the experience of the Fire Department at the recent great fires, especially with the cables strung by the Telephone Company. A resolution was adopted declaring that the suspension of the cables be requested to move their cables before Monday next at noon, and if they fail to do so then the proper authorities will be requested to remove them.

BLIZZARDS AND ICE GORGES.

Mandan, in Dakota, Flooded.

BISMARCK, Dak., March 19.—The gorge at Sibley Island is still intact, despite dynamite. The scene here today is desolate and dreary. The river is still over six miles in width. All last night a swinging light was seen in the woods, and several vain attempts were made to send a party to the rescue. The light was a signal of distress from a settler who, it is learned this morning by looking through a field-glass, has been on the top of his stack since the rising of the waters, swinging a lantern in the hope of calling help. His stack is completely surrounded by water and two miles from the shore of the new-made stream, and it is almost adrift. Two rescuing parties were sent out this morning and have found several families on the roofs of houses. Field-glasses are being used with good results, and numbers of men have been discovered, some being on trees and others on floating timbers. Mandan is completely inundated and the water runs through the streets as if in a millrace. The situation at the river landing here is unchanged. The water is still at the height of 30 feet. All rail routes are blocked, the snowstorm has been transferred into a blinding blizzard, and it is feared that rescuing parties will be lost. They are out with small yaws, and with the blinding storm and a current of ten miles an hour, will be unable to guide their craft or keep their bearings.

A Blizzard is Raging to Night.

The air is so thick with snow that it is impossible to see across the street. Relief parties sent out this morning, about half past five, have not yet returned, and it is feared that they will be lost. ## Big Prairie Fire.

GALVESTON, March 19.—A special from Bandera to the News reports one of the most extensive prairie fires raging in Bandera county that has occurred for years. The fire started in a large cedar, broke and extended over a wide area, causing great destruction. It has now been raging for four days and has approached within a few miles of Bandera, all efforts to stop it having proven futile. Those who have been driven from their property have been destroyed and as much more is in jeopardy. It is thought that it will be impossible to stop it until it reaches the Medina river.

A BOLD COWBOY.

Robs an Army Paymaster of $7500 Before His Nose.

CHICAGO, March 19.—A Times special from Douglas, Wyoming, says: Particulars have just been received here of the robbery of United States Paymaster D. N. Bush of $7500 at Antelope Springs. Major Bush was en route to Fort McKinney to pay off the troops and stopped at Antelope Springs to get dinner, leaving his valise containing the money in the coach, which stood a few steps from the building, and in plain view of the station that morning, and was present when the stage came, ran to it and seized the valise, jumped on the horse standing near and was off like the wind. The paymaster and party sprang for their guns and ran out, firing several shots at the flying desperado without effect. Mounting the stage horses, they followed the fugitive, who turned in the saddle and fired several shots, which were returned by the pursuers with interest. The robber's horse, however, superior to those on which the pursuing party were mounted, and was soon lost to sight. Following his trail the valise was found, from which the robber had removed the money; also a pair of pants, minus one leg, evidently used by the fugitive as a snare in which to carry the cash. The thief is known to be a cowboy named Charley Parker, who has been lately on a ranch on the Cheyenne river. The money taken consists of $250 in gold and the balance in $1000 bills. Major Bush offers a reward of $1000 for the capture of the robber or the return of the money.

THE B. &amp; O. DEAL.

Stigmatized as an Audacious Attempted Speculation.

NEW YORK, March 19.—The Sun will say: So far as the Baltimore matter is concerned the present holders of Mr. Garrett's option are still trying to find means to make good the forfeit of $100,000, which they have put up on the transaction. There are some indications that they may succeed in digging into their pile a little deeper. The matter as it now stands is simply an audacious speculation of a young man whose character is such that the Stock Exchange has refused to allow him even a representation upon its board. The amount involved in transferring the control of the Baltimore and Ohio Company is large, and the position of the property so hampered for the moment that only the most powerful and influential interests are equal to the task, and it looks very much as if Mr. Garrett might follow the market down until he finds buyers who can pay for what they buy. Wall street apparently has made up its mind today that the Baltimore and Ohio Company is a tangible shape it was not likely to be a factor in the speculation. The Tribune will say that the report that the Baltimore and Ohio Company had bought the control of the Baltimore and Ohio to form a through line to the eastern seaboard, was denied in private dispatches received from President Strong in Boston.

FOUR LIVES.

Sacrificed to a St. Louis Drummer's Menace.

TEXARKANA, Ark., March 19.—Two weeks ago Walter Ridgely, a wealthy farmer, shot and killed two ferrymen who were trying to get exorbitant charges out of a St. Louis drummer for putting him across the river. Ridgely took the drummer's part and the ferrymen insulted him for this and attempted to draw their weapons. Then Ridgely shot both dead, and upon examination Ridgely was discharged. John Murphy, a brother of one of the men killed, and another fellow, uncle of the other, swore they would kill Ridgely on sight. Last night Ridgely, being on horseback, was riding home, and on entering a strip of woods was fired on from an ambush. His horse fell dead but its rider escaped unhurt and rolled over on the side of the horse opposite to that from which the firing proceeded. The two would-be murderers were the uncle and the brother mentioned. When within about ten feet of Ridgely suddenly raised up and shot both men dead. This makes four men Ridgely has killed over a simple ferryboat transaction.

FIXED.

By Being Hunged to a Tree for Murder.

CHICAGO, March 19.—The Times' Troy, Tenn., special says: A mob of masked men surrounded the county jail at this place about 12 o'clock and demanded admission of the Sheriff. Being refused, they broke down the outside door, went to the room of the jailor, and breaking down the door, demanded the keys of the cells at the muzzles of pistols and guns. They compelled the jailor to unlock the doors and they took out a prisoner named William Hardy, a mulatto, who had murdered a young white man. They then hanged their victim to a tree.

'ACQUITTED.

The Cannibals at the Fire.

Missing and unaccounted for are: J. B. Acken, Hiram Benedict, Jr., of Lockport, Mr. Johnson, of Toronto, Joseph Sayre, of Erie, and J. C. Pratt, of Albany. Mr. Goodrich, of New York, reported missing, has been heard from at Cleveland, O. The list at present stands: Six dead, twenty are injured, five or six seriously, and five missing.

FOREIGN.

Quick Retribution to a Wretch.

ALLIED AGAINST RUSSIA.

The Tonka Islands Plunged into Civil War Through the Intercession of Missionaries.

Associated Press Dispatches to the Herald.

CHICAGO, March 19.—A Times special from Hastings, N. B., says: Dr. W. W. Randall, of this city, was arrested Wednesday night for committing a rape upon the person of Miss Hart, of Edgar, an eleven-year-old girl, who was placed under his care for treatment. The crime was committed one week ago, and today he was arraigned. Just after his examination closed, and Randall had been placed under $5000 bonds, a brother of the girl pulled out a revolver and, before any person was aware of his intention, shot Randall dead. He then turned and walked out of the room and disappeared, and no person has taken the trouble to look for him, as the shooting is looked upon as justifiable. From the evidence produced, it appears as though Randall and his wife, who was on trial with him, have made a practice of ruin young girls and place them in houses of ill-fame. Mrs. Randall is now in the custody of the Sheriff. She is quartered in her boarding house, surrounded by a large mob which, although not violent, seems determined to do something desperate. The chances are that before to-morrow's sun shines she will have followed her husband.

An Offensive and Defensive Alliance.

BELOGRADE, March 19.—A newspaper states that a military convention has been concluded between Austria and Servia, according to the terms of which Servia will be the ally of Austria in the event of war between the latter and Russia.

AT THEIR OLD GAME.

Missionaries in the Pacific Island Fighting for Supremacy.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—The steamer Alameda, arrived from Sydney today, reports that an attempt was made to assassinate the Premier of the Tonka island, Rev. Shirley Baker, his son and his daughter on the evening of January 13th. While out driving several men, both whites and natives, fired upon them, wounding the daughter. Seven hundred native warriors attempted to lynch the suspected parties, but were dissuaded by Mr. Baker. The trouble was owing to religious quarrels between the different sects. Mr. Baker charges the advocates of Mr. Moulton, one of the missionaries, with exciting civil war. Great excitement prevailed at last accounts and Mr. Baker was barricaded in the King's palace. Mr. Moulton denies inciting hostilities and complains of the oppression exercised by his opponent on the island.

APPLAUDED.

For Refusing to Account for His Stewardship.

DUBLIN, March 19.—Father Keeler, arrested at Yonkham yesterday, was driven to court today in the Lord Mayor's carriage, receiving an ovation en route from the people in the streets. He refused to give any testimony as to his custody of the tenants' money as trustee, upon the plan of the campaign, and was committed to prison for contempt. The Judge declared that if the priest's actions in disobeying the order of the Court were permitted, the whole machinery of the bankruptcy law would be upset.

The Educational Association.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Through the efforts of C. S. Young, of Nevada, and Hon. Fred M. Campbell, of California, to give a banquet to the delegates to the meeting of the National Educational Association in 1888, has been worked up. The following resolution was unanimously adopted at the closing session of the National Department of Superintendent:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that the best interests of this Association will be secured by holding the session of 1888 in San Francisco.

Icebergs in the Atlantic.

NEW YORK, March 19.—An incoming steamer reports passing a large number of icebergs, and an immense field of ice. They state that the ice extends much farther south than usual, and it is thought that the racing yachts may be delayed on this account. Winds have so far been very favorable, and if the ice does not prevent, it is thought that the racers may reach Queenstown about the latter part of next week.

No Bluff.

NEW YORK, March 19.—James Murphy writes to the Spirit of the Times that he will race Montana Regent over the Memphis, Louisville or Latonia track against Volante for $10,000 a side, half forfeit, cup distance and one-quarter miles. Murphy says this is no "bluff," and that the forfeit-money is to be deposited with the President of the race-track over which the race is to run.

VIOLAS PUNISHED.

RAIDED.

The Police Capture Fifty-Six Disorderly People.

Saturday night always finds a surplus of life in the maisons de joie, on Alameda and Aliso streets, and last night was no exception to the rule, until the usual exercises were rudely disturbed by a visit from the police. Shortly after 9 o'clock small squads of police officers were seen wending their way down Alameda street, and in the neighborhood of Aliso they separated and proceeded to different well-known houses of ill-fame, which were ablaze with light and filled with boisterous inmates and visitors. The officers gave no one a chance to escape, and after allowing the girls time to properly clothe themselves, marched them all to the city prison. The procession attracted considerable attention on its way to the police headquarters. Mr. Clark was kept busy for over an hour registering their names and receiving their bail, $10 in each case. In all, fifty-six inmates and visitors were captured by Officers Morton, Moore, Collins, Apple, Deckman, Fowler, Fred Smith, Jeffries, Baqui, Able and Little.

Oliver K.

Yesterday afternoon Budd Doble, who is in charge of Oliver K., the great trotter, said that he would start with the horse for San Francisco on the 27th inst. Oliver K. is matched for a race with Harry Wilkes on the 23d of April. He reports his charge in splendid form, and says that he frequently trots under 2:18 while exercising. Mr. Doble thinks Southern California the finest country in the world for wintering fast stock, and intends spending every winter in this county hereafter.

Best Varieties of Grapes.

M. M. Este, lawyer, farmer and wine maker, delivered an elaborate address on grape growing before the Viticultural convention lately in session in San Francisco. Among other things he spoke of the varieties of grapes to plant. This question, he thinks, depends entirely on locality and the kind of wine that is desired. The first among claret grapes is the Cabernet Sauvignon. It makes a light, rich claret, the best that can be made, and the best the world has ever produced. For a very rich, delicious white wine, Semillon, Sauvignon-blanc, Sauvignon-vet, the entire Reising family and the Chasles are eminently suited to a large part of the grape-growing portion of California. Those parts of the State peculiarly fitted for the production of sweet wines are the southern counties. For the production of sherry the Pedro, Ximenes and the Palomino are recognized as typical sherry grapes. The Trousseau, which is known as one of the best grapes for port wine, is now very largely cultivated in many of the leading vineyards of Southern and Central California. Senator Stanford has a vineyard over four hundred acres of this grape alone. Grape-brandy will soon figure largely in the financial success of the vineyards of this State, and it can be made from any grape grown. The Fille, Blanche, Burger, West's Profitic and the Reising make fine brandy.

Rutherford and Lucy.

Rutherford is quite gray, and is a plain, simple man who laughs and talks with his neighbors. He has forty acres, his goats and his chickens, and lives as happily as an Arab in his tent. Every year he invites the "upper class" of Fremont, by which is meant the local shopkeepers, millers, and even hog-packers out to his farm, and there has a picnic under the trees and drink goat's milk and unfurnished sweet wine. It is a great occasion for the village small fry, who gather to the number of 500 or 600 to shake hands with a fellow who has been President of the village. The awkward compliments under the trees and fall over the furniture and have a good time.

Rutherford has a coachman with a blue coat and brass buttons, and a high hat, caught up the side. This coachman is a sane colt in respect to his uniform, for, while his coat and vest and hat go together, he wears Rutherford's cast-off trousers. His coat is a concession to flunkism and Rutherford's trousers are a concession to democracy. Rutherford has a fish-bone, by blowing a blast on which he calls the coachman. Whenever Rutherford wants the coachman to hitch up the horse he goes to the second-story window of the house, pops out his head and blows the horn, which has been three feet long. The cyclones which devastate Ohio are attributed to his fish-bone.

Lucy is getting fat. She used to be a Buckeye belle, with cheeks like red apples and eyes like blueberries. She went from the farmhouse to the White House, and drank champagne all the way. She is a charitable and kindly woman, and, as a shining example in the prohibition movement, is considered to be worth a hundred Francis Murphys. Rutherford himself was once a lively swain at the country husking-bees and apple-parings, where he first met Lucy, but care on account of his chickens has turned his hair white. Both Rutherford and Lucy are liked by all their neighbors because they came back from the White House and fed their chickens and walked on the common ground, and broke the common air, and did not go around stubbing their toes against the stars.—[N. Y. Star.]

Origin of Drinking the Health.

The apparently meaningless custom of drinking a man's health in a social glass is ancient, before you find its meaning. When gods were deposed ancestors, they were wine and died and toasted; that is, they had the best of everything, for they were supposed still to be capable of hunger and thirst. But as the dead could only "smell sweet" and take of the odors of the wine, the living drank the cups for them. To drink a good cup was a religious and pious custom. So, one friend meeting another, called down the blessing of the gods on him by drinking a god's cup with him. Of course a good man deserves another, and the two would quarrel to each other's health, instead of uttering a prayer. Nowdays, in Tom Allen's saloon, down Rognie alley, two roysterers drink healths with rosy noses and watery eyes, little knowing what it means.—[Globe-D

The Flower Festival Society.

This society held a public meeting on Friday afternoon at the New Home. The meeting was well attended.

A few remarks by the President, Mrs. Widney, upon the object of the Home; the enlarging of the first plan for admitting young women only, to that of the temporary accommodation of aged women, homeless but not helpless, were followed by the reading of the condition of the treasury. The demands for building the Home had not only reduced the funds, but left a debt of over $6000. This debt, however, was found to be at the close of the meeting only $5877.14, which will all be paid, without doubt, by the success of the festival.

Mrs. Wheeler, business manager of the exchange, called attention to the fact, that its principal source of revenue was the membership fees of $1 a year. She spoke of several cases of parties, who had already taken, repaid the benefits of the exchange sales-room, and mentioned the Chicago Woman's Exchange, which in its eighth year, has a business of $30,000 a month. The work of the festival was then taken up. The date of Tuesday, April 12th, had been previously fixed upon for the opening of the festival. The place of exhibition to be the building on Fifth street, between Hill and Olive. The city had been divided for convenience in canvassing into twenty districts. Most of them have been taken by zealous ladies, who will solicit flowers, and who will collect them, if necessary, on days that will be specified later. There were many names given in as general helpers during the days of preparation for the flower show. One hundred helpers will be wanted at the Hall on the first day of preparation. A chance for others to give their names will be given at a second public meeting, to be held on Saturday, April 2nd, at 2:30 P. M., at the Boarding Home on Fourth street, near Main.

The plan of decoration of the hall is to be entirely different from that of last year. Also the plan of entertainments, which will be given in the hall, as also a list of all volunteer assistants. The society is also pleased to learn that Tustin, famed for its pansy show last year, Orange for its fine citrus exhibit, Santa Ana for its roses and San Gabriel and Alhambra for the unique representation of the city of Mission. They have again applied for space to exhibit.

Among new applicants are Sierra Madre, San Bernardino and Santa Monica.
A call will be made the day before the opening, that is, on Monday, the 11th of April, for ten thousand calls. It is hoped that every particle of green that can be saved from the gardens of Los Angeles and neighborhood will be given for the decoration of the hall. It will be sent for, unless the donors can confer the additional favor of delivering at the hall when called for through the papers. Pepper, bananas, cypresses, palm, aloe or century plant will all be most acceptable.

Why Los Angeles is Going Ahead.

In view of the splendid advancement of Southern California, it is perfectly natural that the up-country
papers should feel the least bit sore,
and that the newspapers which are always alert and active in their work
and efforts to energize their section,
should occasionally say little things
calculated to harm the favored region
in which Los Angeles is situated.

The Oakland papers have not been the kindest in the world to us, and have lost few opportunities of giving us a stab under the fifth rib. Now, in Florida, Southern California can expect to find rivals who will scruple
at nothing to injure Southern California. The country has in a few years attracted the vast crowds of tourists
who formerly spent the winter season
in Florida; our oranges have supplanted those of Florida in the Eastern markets; the railroad companies have all established general agencies in Los Angeles, and reduced their clerical forces in Florida. Mentone, Nice, Cannes and other European climatic resorts, also feel keenly the inroads made by our advancement.

Therefore we can well look for and anticipate attacks from these "fallen empires." But Oakland and the other cities in the north should take into consideration
the fact that what immigration
they gain comes through the imperial gates of glorious Los Angeles, and it is only by the exercise of a splendid generosity that we allow a single tourist to escape us. We feel for the northern country, which is good in soil and climate, but is in any degree to be compared to the imperial region on this side of the mountains, and are disposed to accord to them a share of our surplus immigration. Oakland, at least, is awakening to this fact, and the papers there are urging the people to follow the example of Pasadena, and other suburbs of this city. They have lost all idea of entering the lists with Los Angeles, or even attempting to emulate its incomparable
march of progress.

The Oakland Enquirer says:
A BRIGHT EXAMPLE.—The Enquirer
bears no ill-will toward the south
because of the wonderful strides in prosperity which that part of the state is making, and therefore it takes pleasure in calling attention to what Pasadena has accomplished during the last year. We find the facts stated in the Los Angeles Herald, and they smack of the marvelous. In this young city, which had no existence till a few years ago, and less than $5,000,000 has been expended in twelve months in developing in lands, buildings and building material, railroad and other improvements. Six street railroads have been built or partially built, a great fruit storage warehouse and a cannery erected, two banks established, gas works completed, and one of the finest school houses in the State provided. In all, there are now three banks in the town and another will soon be established. Those there at present have deposits amounting to $1,000,000. There are fifteen hotels, the number indicating that no small part of the prosperity of the town is based on the entertainment of travelers. The great Raymond Hotel is situated three miles out of town, and the citizens are now building a cement walk along this whole distance. Since the Raymond was opened, about the middle of November, its success has been wonderful. In less than four months it entertained 25,000
guests, and it is unnecessary to say that the investment of capital in the enterprise has been a remunerative
one. This is a bright and shining example to Oakland.

The Oakland Tribune has also discovered that there is some merit in the southern country and has the following editorial:

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA ADVANCING.
—Ex-Senator Whitney this morning reached Oakland, accompanied by Mrs. Whitney, after an absence of nearly three weeks, spent in southern California, among the one-lunged tourists, orange groves, and glorious climate. He speaks in the highest terms of the buoyancy, enterprise and public spirit prevailing throughout that region, and says that the prosperity existing there is but the legiti-mate result of the praiseworthy efforts of the people to make the advantages of their section known outside of their own region. He predicts that Los Angeles will soon become a city of 100,000 population,
and that it will maintain itself at that point; and he believes that property values are not too high to maintain themselves at present figures, while they are likely to go to a much higher point, from which no reaction will follow. He found that many people from the central portions of the State are investors in property there; and that they become as enthusiastic as those
"the matter horn," or as the Eastern tenderfoot to whom flowers
and strawberries all the year round,
and sunny seaports bearing the fragrance
of orange blossoms in mid-winter are unaccustomed delights. The awakening extends to all the southern country. Even Santa Barbara has bestirred itself from its torpor, and its drowsy landowners find themselves the most envious of mortals.

All are rich in figures. There is no use in trying to depreciate or belittle the "boom," or to detract from its merit. Whatever can be said in favor of the localities where it exists can all be said with equal truth of Oakland and Alameda county. We have an equally agreeable climate,
a more fertile soil, the greater advantages which come from nearness to the necessary metropolis of the State, and all these things will come to our benefit. Land is cheaper to-day in Oakland and Alameda county than anywhere south of us, and we offer more in return for it. He predicts that the good times will surely come this way, wooded and invited by the efforts of our Board of Trade.

NOTWITHSTANDING the official reports sent from this city of the abatement of smallpox, San Francisco yesterday quarantined against the port of San Pedro. This is of a piece with the consideration usually given Southern California by the people of the Golden Gate. There is no resident of Los Angeles who cares to invade the sewer-tainted city of San Francisco, and the Eastern tourists who visit the inhospitable place quickly come to Los Angeles, if their health does not fail, or if they escape
being robbed of everything they possess. It is within the range of possibilities that our merchants can go to Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago and even New York, without trouble.
San Francisco has thrown down a gambit that Los Angeles will not be slow to pick up.

THE City Health officer reports
that there are now only sixteen cases of smallpox in the city, and that all of these are convalescent. Only one new case has been discovered within the past week. This certainly looks as if the disease had been effectively checked, and in a few days we will hear no more of the smallpox. Another good indication is the statement of Dr. Ross. This gentleman is of the medical corps of the Southern Pacific Railroad company. He has, within the past week, traversed
the road from Yuma to Sumner, and has found not a single case of small-pox.

BUD DOBLE, the noted horseman whom we have charge of a number of horses at Agricultural Park, said yesterday that he considered Southern California the finest country in the world in which to winter race horses. Hereafter he expects to spend every winter in this country
with a string of fine horses.

THE SMALLPOX.
All Patients Recovering, and no
New Cases Found.
City Health Officer Hagan last night
made the following official report in regard to the smallpox:

Number and location of families under quarantine: 621 Hill street, 21 Pennylvania, 570 Buena Vista, 333 and 350
Center street, corner Pearl and College, and family near brick yard. Only one patient in each family. Believed from quarantine to-day: Corner Seventh and Main, corner Fifth and Spring, and family on Chavez street. Three patients that had recovered were discharged from the hospital, nine remaining. Two deaths occurred, aged men 72 years,
in the hospital, and a child on Chavez street. Only sixteen cases now in the city, including those in the hospital.
Nearly all are convalescent. There has been only one case discovered in seven days.

Dr. Ross, of the medical corps of the South-Pac, returned yesterday
from an extended trip over that line.
He traversed the road from Yuma to Sumner, and reports the system entirely free from smallpox. He has not found a case in all his travels.

The Pyke Opera Season.
The Pyke Opera Company, with Miss Jeanie Winston as its star, follows the Clara Morris engagement at the Grand, opening to-morrow evening in the opera
of Prince Mathusalem, one of Strauss' most successful works, and one which met with instantaneous and marked success upon its first production in New York three years ago. The opera has only been produced in the West by the Pyke Company, and has everywhere
been received with the greatest favor.
The title role, assumed by Miss Winston,
is one of her strongest characterizations.
Miss Manford, as "Pulcinella," has scored a decided success wherever the company has played the piece. She needs no introduction to Los Angeles, and will undoubtedly be warmly greeted. De Lange is said to be "immense" as "Duke Sigismund." He will be heard in the famous topical and local song,
"The Dotter on the L." A feature of the performance is said to be a military drill, unusual at arms and march by the female chorus. The company, augmented as it is, is a strong one and should draw

Is it not singular
That consumptives should be the least apprehensive of their own condition, while all their friends are urging and reasoning
them to be more careful about exposure and overdoing. It may well be considered one of the now amazing symptoms of the disease, where the patient is reckless and will not believe that he is in danger.
Reader, if you are in this condition, do not neglect the only means of recovery. Avoid exposure and fatigue, be regular in your thousands who were steadily failing.

THE WINE INTEREST.

The Grapes-Growers and Wine-Makers Convention.

The following interesting proceedings were held at the Grapes-Growers and Wine-Makers Convention at San Francisco last week: At 9 o'clock the convention was called to order by the President of the association, M. W. McIntyre, who read a lengthy and interesting address. After welcoming the members of the convention, Mr. McIntyre went on to say that during the past year much good had been accomplished. There was a failure to secure national legislation in the interests of pure wine, but that failure would manifest to the country at large that falsification of wine is resorted to, but that the wine-growers are opposed to and denounce it. Regret was expressed that there is no reliable data as to the exact extent of the acreage in this State planted with vines. Probably there were 150,000 acres of vines in California.

Mr. McIntyre expressed a conviction that in this State phylloxera is alarmingly on the increase, and every means should be resorted to to eradicate this pest. Sulphuring of vines against mildew should be resorted to only when they are young. If a second sulphuring is necessary, the sulphur should be thrown in the ground under the vines. Attention was called to the necessity of keeping wine cellars sweet and clean. Suggestions were thrown out as to the construction of wine vats and presses. The proper care of rubber hose used in wine making was referred to with the caution that if the hose is not thoroughly cleaned great mischief may be done in the process of fermentation. The racking of wine was dwelt upon and the statement made that the racking should be much more frequent than is now customary. In the improvement of the wine product the first and most vital point is the selection of the grape for planting; this wine and all is wrong, but, rightly begun, there is no limit to the possibilities for the future of wine making in California.

At the conclusion of the President's address Professor E. W. Hilgard said that in California the great pest of the phylloxera can be so easily prevented that there is no excuse for the rapid and widespread distribution of the pest. The professor said that putting common gas lime around the roots of the vines and raking it into the soil is a simple remedy that will completely prevent the ground spreading of the phylloxera. Professor Hilgard did not apprehend any danger to the vineyards of Contra Costa and Alameda counties from the phylloxera-infected vines on the University grounds.

M. E. Estez said that in his vineyard of 415 acres the phylloxera has existed for ten years. Six years ago he began to dig out the infected vines and plant in their stead resistant vines. He thought that if the phylloxera can be killed out right so much the better, but as a matter of business intelligence he thought the best thing is to plant resistant vines. He has only lost five acres by the ravages of the pest. He advised the use of the wild riparian as a resistant.

H. M. La Rue stated that in his vineyard of ninety acres he had been obliged to pull up fifteen acres of vines. He has planted as resistant the wild riparian, Californian and Arizonian. The Californian seems to be flourishing and doing best of all. A protracted discussion then ensued as to the relative merits of the various resistant vines, the outcome of which was that in selecting a resistant particular attention was to be paid to the quality of the soil in which the resistant is to be planted.

C. A. Wetmore stated that he had as yet failed to hear of any well-authenticated case of the phylloxera of a California vine by the phylloxera. A recess was then taken until 8 o'clock.

The convention resumed its session at 8 o'clock. A communication was received from H. W. Crab, expressing regret at his inability to be present, and submitting the following series of resolutions to be observed in the handling of young vines in the cellar:

"Everything about the cellar should be kept clean and sweet. The wine in tanks should be filled up once a week. Young vines in warm cellars should be racked every two months, commencing with the middle of December. White wines that are cloudy at the time of the second racking should be clarified with one pound of gelatin, first sulphuring the tank strongly. Rack them out the findings in ten or twelve days. If, after four days, any of the wine is not clear, repeat the operation. White wines, put those that are sweetish in punchones. Rack sweet fortified wines four times the first year. They should contain twenty per cent. of alcohol. Filtering machines should only be used on wines for immediate consumption. Pasteurizing is the best method of treating club-borne wines. Mousiness in red wine comes from decomposition of the lees by neglect of racking often enough. Wines are unstable as long as they contain any foreign matter, and the sooner they are freed from it the better. The more certain and rapid will be the development. Every man, if possible, should be his own cellar-man. Six-pint tanks are the most practical-shaped cooperage for the handling of young wine."

M. E. Estez delivered an address on grape-growing and wine-making in California. The address was an elaborate and finished effort. The speaker said that in his opinion there has been no time when the Pacific Coast consumed more than six or seven million gallons of wine a year. Hence, the home demand is limited and a market must be found abroad. There are two objects in view—one to make a good quality and the other to find a market for it. Wines to ship East or Europe should be first-class, thoroughly ripe in prime order of amplex, and which will command a good price when they arrive there. It costs as much to cooper and transport poor wine as it does the best wine, there is very little good old wine in this State today, but there is a large amount of very young wine; but very young wine is not marketable. In 1886 the whole wine crop of France was 553,000,000 gallons. During that year the import of wine into France were about four times as much as were her exports. There can be no more propitious time for California to enter into the field of competition in the great wine industry than now.

As to the varieties of grapes to be planted, this depends entirely on locality and the kind of wine that is to be made. The first among claret grapes is the Cabernet-Sauvignon. It makes a light, rich claret, the best that can be made, and the best the world has ever produced. For a very rich, delicious white wine, the Semillon, which is a native of France, is the best. The entire Riesling family and the Chasselas are eminently suited to a large part of the grape growing portion of California. Those parts of the State peculiarly fitted for the production of sweet wines are the southern counties. For the production of sherry the Pedro, Ximenes and Palomino are recognized as typical sherry grapes. The Riesling, which is known as one of the best grapes for port wine, is now very largely cultivated in many of the leading vineyards of Southern and Central California. Senator Stanford has at Vina over 400 acres of this grape alone. Grape brandy will soon figure largely in the financial success of the vineyards of this State, and it can be made from any grape grown. The Falle, Blanch, Burger, West's Prolific and the Keisling make fine brandy. For the last ten years the California vineyard has been gradually climbing up the hills. The first vineyards planted in this State were planted on bottom land, doubtless because it was then supposed that the bottom land was the only place where grapes would grow; but more recently every thoughtful vineyardist has come to the conclusion that hill lands are conspicuously the best for the production of at least a high type of light wine. For the making of sweet wines and brandies the reverse of that rule may be possible. Most harsh winters have been experienced in the State, and the grape spirits ought not to exceed forty cents per gallon; then the producer could obtain net, say, from 90 cents to $1.50 a gallon for his brandy when it is new. This will pay him, and it will get rid of a large amount of inferior wine by producing a superior brandy. Wine should be what it imports to be. Mr. Estez stated that he had received a dispatch announcing that Governor Bartlett had signed the Pure Wine bill. A discussion followed upon the topics touched upon in the paper submitted by Messrs. Crab and Estez. It was stated that the artificial introduction of tannin into the fermenting wine should be avoided in this State; new wines should be frequently racked; great care must be used in sulphuring cooperage which is to contain red wines.

THE STATE TEXT-BOOKS.

Plan for Their Distribution by the Law Just Passed.

The Governor has approved Senate Bill No. 426, which provides for the sale and distribution of the State series of school text-books. Nearly every family in the State is interested, and we give below the method of distribution as provided in the bill:

"All orders for text-books shall be made to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and shall be accompanied by cash, in payment for the same, at the price fixed by the State Board of Education as the cost price at Sacramento; provided, that if the books are to be shipped by mail, the cost of postage shall also accompany the order. The following persons shall be entitled to order books:

"1. County Superintendents of Schools, for the use of teachers, parents and pupils in their counties only. Principals of State Normal schools, for their own and for the use of the pupils in their respective schools only.

"3. The Secretary or Clerk of any school district in the State, whether incorporated or operating under the general law of the State, for the use of the pupils in each district only; but no book shall be ordered by the County Superintendents, or Clerks of District Boards of Trustees, or Principals of State Normal schools, shall be sold at a price exceeding the cost price at Sacramento, with the actual cost of freight and cartage added.

"4. Any retail dealer who shall first transmit to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction an affidavit duly subscribed by him in substance as follows, to-wit:

"In consideration of receiving for sale, upon the enclosed or upon separate order, the series of school text-books, or any part thereof, published by the State of California, I hereby agree that I will not sell the same to any person or persons for the purpose of being sold again, or to any person or persons beyond the limits of the State of California, and that I will not sell said series of text-books, or any part or portion thereof, at a price exceeding the price to the pupil fixed by the State Board of Education."

"Said affidavit shall be indorsed by the County Superintendent in the following words, to-wit:

"I hereby certify that A. B. is a regular retail dealer in school books in this county."

"C. D., County Superintendent."

"It shall be the duty of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to furnish at once to each County Superintendent, for the use of any dealer in his county who may apply for permission to sell the books of the State series, printed copies of the above affidavit, together with the list of prices of such books fixed as the cost price at Sacramento, and the price to the pupil, and any dealer who shall fail to comply with the conditions of said affidavit shall forfeit his right to any further purchase of said books from the State. And it shall be the duty of the Superintendent of Public Instruction to report to the State Controller, on or before the 5th day of every month, the number of books sold by him during the preceding month, and pay the money received for the same into the State treasury. It shall also be the duty of the Superintendent of State Printing, on or before the 25th day of every month, to report to the State Controller the number and value of the books shipped by him on the order of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the number and value of the books sold on his order."

"It shall be the duty of the Boards of Supervisors of the counties, or cities and counties, in this State, to provide a revolving fund, for the purpose of enabling the County School Superintendents to purchase the State text-books; and the money to be taken therefrom to be replaced by money received from the sale of said books to the scholars of the public schools of his county, either by himself, or by the teachers of the public schools, or the Clerks of Boards of District Trustees."

"All school books compiled by the State shall be furnished to the public school children of the State at the cost of printing, publishing and distributing the same, said cost to be ascertained and fixed by the State Board of Education, on or before the 5th day of June, of each school year, and it shall be the duty of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to take care that the cost of distribution shall be taken to be cost of postage required for mailing each book."

"And this act shall be in force from and after its passage."

The price list has been fixed by the State Board of Education as follows: First Reader, at Sacramento, 15 cents; by mail or purchased from bookseller, 20 cents.

Second Reader, at Sacramento, 30 cents; by mail or purchased from bookseller, 35 cents.

Third Reader, at Sacramento, 40 cents; by mail or purchased from bookseller, 45 cents.

Speller, at Sacramento, 20 cents; by mail or purchased from bookseller, 25 cents.

32 cents, thus making the cost of a set the same as now, but the price of each book a multiple of five, so that change may be easily made by parents and pupils purchasing.

DAILY HERALD.
CITY OF FRESNO.The San Joaquin Valley
Metropolis.

GREAT COMMERCIAL CENTER.

The City of the Plain Expanding
in Wealth and Overflowing with Prosperity.

To a stranger approaching the town of Fresno, in Fresno county, on the swift, safe flying cars of the Southern Pacific Company, the appearance of seven or eight great, capacious warehouses and miles of freight cars along the track suggests the question "What are all these things for?"

But on alighting from the train and viewing the industries of the place the question is easily answered. Fresno is near the center of the San Joaquin valley, 280 miles from Los Angeles in a northerly direction and 206 miles south-east of San Francisco, in a great agricultural and pomological center without a rival.

It is the county seat, with a population of 5500 persons, has an elevation like Los Angeles, of 300 feet above the sea; a busy, thriving population that is always in a hurry and no looser to hang around the corners of the streets. The inhabitants of the city have more than doubled in the last three years, and the property has doubled in value within the last year.

The city has a large, beautiful and imposing courthouse standing in a park of twelve acres in the center of the town. It has a large and excellent public schoolhouse, where 800 children are instructed by eight teachers. Another house will soon be erected for the increased accommodation of the schools. Nine church buildings afford ample facilities for worship for the people.

Four banks of local and deposit with a capital of $1,000,000 afford all the financial advantages to the citizens.

MANUFACTURING INTERESTS.

The Fresno Milling Company has a superb flouring mill with a motive power by water of 5000 cubic feet of water per minute. It grinds by the roller process 200 barrels of flour per day, which are sent into various parts of the State and New Mexico. The mill is situated on a large, fertile and irrigated tract, and has a large cannery and raisin-packing house, an ice factory, a soap factory, gas works, public water works, which give clear water from wells, two planing mills and three lumber yards. The warehouses are ample for the storage of 2,000,000 bushels of grain, besides wool, wine, raisins and flour in abundance.

The city is supplied with an opera house, an armory hall, 140x60 feet, and a splendid Masonic temple. It has also three very fine newspapers, the daily and weekly Herald, published by the ever popular J. W. Ferguson; the Fresno (weekly) Democrat, published by J. H. Waggoner & Co., a very handsome journal, and the excellent Fresno Republican, by Messrs. Short & Shanklin. All these papers are doing and working for Fresno city and county, and deserve an excellent support.

Fresno has a fine military organization called the Forsyth Guards. The members are all picked men and are usually from 5 feet 10 inches to 6 feet 3 inches in height, under command of M. W. Muller, Captain; S. S. Wright, First Lieutenant, and D. S. Snodgrass, Second Lieutenant. The company is the pride of the city.

RAILROAD LINES AND BUSINESS.

The Southern Pacific Company, between Los Angeles and San Francisco, passes through the center of the original townsite and derives a large business from this place. The freight bills of this company at Fresno now amount to $40,000 per month. Two street railways are now in contemplation and franchises have been applied for. One will run in an easterly direction to the famous Eastern vineyard and winery, and the other starting from the same point in the center of the business part of the city will extend easterly to the race track.

The first line will be chartered as a dummy and the second as a horse-car line. Geo. W. Meade and Geo. W. Bradley, of San Francisco, and J. R. White, M. G. Church and W. W. Phillips are the incorporators.

Geo. W. Meade & Co., who have just established a large commercial house in Los Angeles, have purchased a large amount of valuable real estate in this city and will soon commence the erection of a large brick hotel on the corner of J and Tulare streets. A stock company headed by Thomas E. Hughes, will erect another similar hotel on the corner of H and Tulare streets. These two great, beautiful buildings will stand on neighboring corners on the same street. Their combined cost will reach $300,000.

A fire insurance company has just been started with a capital of $200,000, and a lithographic company with a capital of $50,000. Sales of real estate in the city are of daily occurrence and are made at steadily advancing prices.

A single sale of $80,000 was made on Friday (18th) and the purchaser thinks he sees $30,000 profit in the venture. Building operations are going on on all sides and the town seems to be having a genuine boom of a strictly legitimate nature.

OTHER IMPORTANT PROJECTS.

A company has been formed with a capital of $50,000 to construct a V flume from the headwaters of King's river to Fresno, for sliding down the vast quantities of pine lumber along that stream. A narrow gauge railway is also contemplated from Fresno to the pines and the stock and depot grounds have been secured and the line surveyed. Still another connection is proposed between Fresno and the lumber producing region which is for the Atchafalaya, Topoka and Santa Fe railroad to extend its line westerly and northerly from Mojave to Walker's Pass and thence to Fresno and San Francisco.

A company has also been formed here to make a canal navigable for canal boats and light draft steamers from the headwaters of the San Joaquin down over the plain, on the north of the city, with facilities for irrigation as well as navigation. About a hundred buildings, for residence and business purposes, are being erected in the city. The Fresno County exhibit in Los Angeles is doing a good work in showing the products and prospects of this part of the State. Mr. Firman Church, the Fresno agent in Los Angeles, is finding places for many home-seekers in Fresno.

A consideration of the imperial wealth of the county will have to be given in a separate article. In the matter of hotels Fresno has the same number as it has of churches, and embraces in the first Grand Central, Southern Pacific Hotel, Oak House, Western Hotel, Adams Hotel, San Hotel, Arizona Hotel, Western Hotel, and Rans Hotel. All are well managed and prosperous, and all the merchants in the city appear to be getting rich. Fresno will soon be a city of 10,000 inhabitants.

MARVELOUS CHANGES.

What the Future will be to Those who Refuse to Believe.

In this country unconsciously undergoing a wonderful change, is the change to take place before we are aware of the fact, and when it has taken place will wonder why we did not see it before it was too late?

Those that see the changes early avail themselves early, and thereby receive benefit.

The crowd of iron men sees the iron interest transferred from Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania to Birmingham, Alabama, and in his far-sightedness sees the furnace in Pennsylvania torn down and deserted for this new and prolific field. It is claimed by the iron men of Alabama that the low price at which iron can be produced there will revolutionize the iron interests of the world.

We have seen the grain-growing centers of this country shifted to the West. We have seen the pork-packing industry shift from Cincinnati to Chicago, and from thence to Kansas City and Omaha. Southern cotton mills undersell New England and American markets, and challenge the world.

We have seen and are seeing all this take place before our eyes, and know that the changes are taking place equally as promptly, and we wonder and we behold them. Ten years ago the insurance companies only required an analysis of the fluids when they were taking insurance for very large amounts. To-day no first-class company will insure any amount unless they have a rigid analysis of the fluids passed, and if any traces of certain disorders are apparent, the application is rejected. In their reports they show that the death of every 100 people in this country, is due either directly or indirectly to such disorders. The Brompton Hospital for Consumptives, London, England, reports that sixty of every 100 victims of consumption also have serious disorders of the kidneys.

Among scientists for the treatment of this dread malady the question is being discussed: "Is not this disorder the real cause of consumption?"

Ten years ago the microscope was something seldom found in a physician's office; now every physician of standing has one and seldom visits his patients without calling for a sample of fluids for examination.

Why all this? Is it possible that we of the present generation are to die of diseases caused by kidney disorders? or shall we master the cause by Warner's safe cure, the only recognized specific, and thus remove the effects? It is established beyond a doubt that a very large percentage of deaths in this country are traceable to diseased kidneys.

For years the proprietors of Warner's safe cure have been insisting that there is no sound health when the kidneys are diseased, and they enthusiastically press their specific for this terrible disorder upon public attention. We are continually hearing its praises sounded.

This means wonders! Cannot the proprietors of this great remedy, who have been warning us of the danger, tell us how to avoid a disease that at first is so unimportant, and is so fatal in its termination? Are we to hope against hope, and wait without our reward?

The most significant of all changes, however, that we of to-day can note in this radical change of view to which the public has been educated. It was formerly thought that the kidneys were of very small importance; to-day, we believe, it is generally admitted that there can be no such thing as sound health in any organ if they are in the least degree deranged.
